Dear dear Mr Severn

John has made enquiries at the Post Office, but can obtain no information respecting the missing letter, besides which they say that as the letter was not certified they are not responsable for it.

John has also examined at the Banking house of Baiver, the Cheque has not hitherto been presented there, if it should be, they will detain it, as they know my signature perfectly well. I am sorry Mrs Brawne's letter has been lost. Have the kindness to inform me of its contents, and to certify your letter. I can but repeat for the hundredth time, how sorry I am to cause you so much trouble. Ever yours

Sincerely J Keats de Llanos
